IN THE LOCAL COURTS

Only a Few Cases Heard by Judge Sanders.

Business Has Been Very Dull Today in the Circuit Court.

IN THE MAGISTRATES' COURTS

POLICE COURT.

Susie Jones, colored, recently sold a black dress skirt. She could not remember where the white woman lived who had given her the skirt. The evidence showed that Susie Jones and another negro had gone to Ella King's house and when they left the King woman's daughter, Ella Chapman, missed her skirt. This is the skirt and the prisoner was held over for grand jury action.

George Richstein, white, whom A. Ledford yesterday cut with a knife, was dismissed of a breach of the peace charge.

The breach of the peace charge against John Herndon and Herbert Rice, colored, was continued.

Rufus Ross and Ulysses Ross, colored boys and brothers, were reprimanded by Judge Sanders for the petty theft of lumber. Frank Rice, Robert Jeans and Walter Bryant, other colored boys, are also implicated in the theft but as nothing other than a reprimand was given, the boys will probably not be arrested.

Charles Robertson, colored, was fined $10 and costs for fighting Georgia Watts, colored, while the latter was dismissed.

The following fines were assessed against saloon keepers for keeping open last Sunday: Beach and White, $10; Quarles, Sam Liebel, Charles Denker, all white and Ed Singleton, colored. They were fined $10 and costs each.

Lucian Poston, colored, was arraigned for carrying a pistol and for breaking into Katie Jones' home and stealing $7 in money. The cases were partially investigated and left open until tomorrow.

Charles Ewing, alias Posby, colored, was arraigned for stealing a watch from another negro named Hardeson, and the case left open.

O. M. Johnson, county, age 27, to Mary Rushing, county age 17. First marriage of both.

The general demurrer to the petition in the case of S. B. Hughes, trustee, against W. B. McPherson was overruled by Judge L. D. Hushands this morning.

and preparations for the worst have been made at both ends of the line.

HOW THE SUN'S CIRCULATION IS BOOMING

The Sun is usually too modest to say much about itself but it has been booming in circulation and business so much lately that its enthusiasm over the growth has overcome its modesty to that extent which permits it to tell its friends just what it is doing. The Sun is the only local paper that does, or dares to, make an affidavit, of its circulation and it is recognized as the most widely circulated of all Paducah papers.

Not only has The Sun a large city circulation but it goes into the homes, daily, of over 250 of McCracken's county's best farmers; and is as much appreciated by them as it is by the city subscribers.

The Sun's circulation is distributed as follows:
In Paducah by carriers 1707
In McCracken county, by mail 250
In Metropolis and Brookport 100
Sundry towns, by mail 180

The circulation for the month of October averaged, daily, 2201 for the entire month. This is an increase over a year ago of over 400.

However keep your eye on The Sun, and watch it in the year coming. It is Paducah, and McCracken's favorite paper, and is destined for big things.

YOUNG'S COURT.

Justice Jesse Young this afternoon tried the breach of the peace case against Eugene Wilkins, white, of the Hinkleville road. It was charged that Wilkins and a farmer named Jones, had a dispute on the public highway but the evidence was not strong enough to make out a case and Justice Young dismissed it. The breach of the peace was supposed to have been committed ten days ago.

BARBERS' COURT.

Justice R. J. Barber is today trying the case against Joe Williams, colored, charged with the seduction of Pearl Gilbert. There is much evidence to be heard and the city hall, where Justice Barber has been holding court, has been well filled with witnesses, both sides having summoned many.

Judge Barber concluded the evidence this afternoon and acquitted the defendant of the charge.

Mrs. W. E. Covington is in Dyersville, Ky., visiting her parents.

REPORTED ROBBERY

M. W. FORD SAID HIS WATCH AND PAIR OF SHOES WERE TAKEN.

M. W. Ford, a well known old man of the city reported to Lieutenant Harlan this morning that he was last evening or yesterday afternoon robbed of his watch and a pair of shoes he was carrying. It seems he met some friends on the South Side and took a drink out of a bottle, and remembers nothing else. When he regained consciousness his property was missing. The police have no clue to the identity of the thieves.

MORE MEN QUIT WORK

About Sixty Out on a Strike at Cooperage Company.

Not a Question of Wages But of the Character of Work That Is required.

SETTLEMENT EXPECTED SOON

There is a strike on at the main plant of the Paducah Cooperage company in Mechanicsburg today and sixty men are without work as a result. The men struck on account of a misunderstanding about a certain class of heading to be made and as yet nothing has been done in regard to a settlement.

Yesterday afternoon, as far as can be learned the men became dissatisfied with a certain class of work they were "put on" and many began to complain.

As a result all "joiners" and "pinners" walked out leaving the cooperage plant short sixty men.

The work has been necessarily interfered with but a member of the firm stated this morning that he thought the matter would be amicably adjusted in a day or so, if not today, as the men had probably misunderstood the intention of the company.

No conference was secured by the firm with the strikers today, but a meeting will be appointed for tonight. The strike has not been caused by money matters, and the men will be given every possible privilege and consideration in the matter of settlement. The men struck a few months ago because some of the heading, it was claimed, had to be made of material that required harder and more disagreeable work, and the differences were then settled amicably in a day or two, which will probably be the case this time.

SEARCHING FOR BROTHER

AND THE LOUISVILLE MAN WILL PROBABLY OPEN THE GRAVE.

Mr. L. H. Baker, of Louisville, a tobaccoist, appeared at the city hall this afternoon searching for information relative to his brother, whom he had not seen or heard from in five years.

About two weeks ago C. A. Baker, a stantby man, died at Crowell's Landing above Smithland and was buried near that place. A telegram was sent out searching for relatives and found its way into the Louisville Times, the brother saw it and came at once to Paducah to see if it really was his brother. The body is buried and Mr. Baker stated that he would probably go to Smithland and open the grave to satisfy himself.

The brother was a man 42 years of age and other than in age the description of the dead man tallies with that of the missing brother.

DECLINED OFFER

HOPKINSVILLE FOOTBALL TEAM WANTED TO PLAY HERE.

Mr. John Brooks received a message from the Hopkinsville football team this morning, wanting to play a match game with the Paducah team next Saturday. The challenge was declined, however, because the Paducah boys do not intend to play after Thanksgiving which ends the season.

The home team is in excellent training for the Thanksgiving game Thursday afternoon at the league grounds at Wallace park, with the West Kentucky college team of Mayfield and is confident of victory.

L. & N.'S NEW ROUTE

May Build Short Cut Between Nashville and St. Louis.

Proposed Route From Princeton, Ky., to Shawneetown, Ill.

ONLY RUMORS THUS FAR.

According to a press despatch, an interesting railroad rumor has been just received at Clarksville to the effect that the Louisville & Nashville railroad is planning more direct connections between Nashville, Tenn., and St. Louis, Mo. In order to effect this plan, the idea is said to be to construct a new line from Hygieia Springs, Tenn., located half way between Nashville and Guthrie, Ky., on the Henderson division of the L. & N. to Clarksville, there to connect with the Princeton, Ky., branch of the L. & N., and from Princeton to build on to Shawneetown, a comparatively short distance, from which place there is already a line into St. Louis. This would, it is said, shorten the line from Nashville to St. Louis at least seventy-five miles, and do away with the contemplated necessity of double tracking the Henderson division in order to handle the increasing traffic of the road.

Surveyors were in Clarksville the other day running lines in the eastern part of that city, and an employee of the L. & N. is said to have admitted that the plans of his road are such as above outlined. The additional advantages of this proposed line would be to give direct connections between Clarksville and Nashville, also a better opportunity for competition with the Tennessee Central and the Illinois Central northwest and throughout this immediate section of country.

300 MOROS KILLED.

Manila, Nov. 24—Three hundred Moros are known to have been killed and many others were carried off dead or wounded as a result of five days' severe fighting in Jolo between the American troops under General Leonard Wood and the insurgents. Major H. L. Scott of the 14th cavalry and five American privates were wounded. General Wood landed near Siet lake in Jolo November 13. The Moros were soon located, and fighting began immediately and continued until November 17.

Major Scott was taking Panglima Hassan, the Moro leader, who had been taken a prisoner, to Jolo. While en route Hassan asked to be allowed to see his family. His appeal was granted, and he thereupon led Major Scott into an ambush, where the American detachment was fired upon. Major Scott was shot in both hands. Hassan succeeded in escaping during this unexpected attack, but is supposed to have been killed the following day.

A PECULIAR PHENOMENON.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 24—The smoky condition of the atmosphere which has prevailed for the past three days was worse, instead of being improved, yesterday. The sun was completely obscured and one could see but a few blocks. Local scientists believe that it is a phenomena which has no connection with the forest fires in east Texas. It is suggested by some that the air is filled with fine particles of dust instead of smoke, and that it betokens a great volcanic eruption in some distant land. This remarkable atmospheric condition covers practically the whole of Texas, Louisiana and parts of Arkansas and Mexico.

ANOTHER REPORTED ENGAGEMENT.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 24—Society gossip are busy discussing the rumor that Miss Alice Roosevelt is engaged to Arthur Iselin, the son of C. Oliver Iselin by his first wife. Miss Roosevelt's family here decline to discuss the matter.

FORT MASSAC

President of the Commission Greatly Pleased.

There is at Present Very Little of the Old Tract near Metropolis Left.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 24.—Mrs. M. T. Scott of this city, who is the president of the Fort Massac commission, appointed by Gov. Yates, to buy the famous old stronghold on the Ohio river, near Metropolis, made a thorough inspection of the relic.

The purchase of the old fort, around which cluster so many historical recollections, was agitated for many years by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Scott states that she was delighted with the beautiful view of the river to be secured from the site of the fort. Only a small section of the fort is left. The visitor is able to distinguish two redoubts, a few bastions and an old well.

These will be carefully preserved, and the walks and drives will be laid out with reference to them. The commission secured twenty acres, and the tract is almost square. The river front of the new park will be about one eighth of a mile in length. There is a beautiful oak grove near the old fort, which has been included in the purchase, and which will be an object of interest to the tourist.

The drives and walks will be laid out by an experienced landscape gardener. The commission will not make much progress in beautifying the park before spring. It is then proposed to build a lodge and appoint a custodian, and make all of the improvements that the appropriation will permit.

The residents of Metropolis are greatly elated over the purchase of the site by the state, and are anxious to assist the commission. The proposed extension of a branch of the Illinois Central to the site of the park will be brought to the attention of President Fish of that corporation at the earliest possible time, as the present method of reaching the park by stage is a slow process. Assurances were received some time ago that if the state made the appropriation the extension would be built. It is probable that old Fort Massac will be the objective point of many tourists in the next few years. It was the scene of the first white settlement in Illinois, made by Gen. George Roberts Clarke. There is no place in Illinois so rich in historical recollections, and its preservation by the state will be applauded by future generations.

Both were struck in the face with the shot and one, the finest, instantly killed. The other has recovered and will live.

Former Resident of Mayfield Released in California.

His Daughter, Who Formerly Lived in Paducah, Committed Suicide.

J. B. McGinnis, a former resident of Mayfield, Graves county, who has been in trouble in Fresno, Cal., is to return to Kentucky to reside, and will locate near his former home in Graves county, according to the Mayfield Messenger.

His experience has been like a romance. A year or two ago he found his daughter, Miss Idy McGinnis, residing in Paducah at 422 North Fifth street with the family of Mr. M. M. Tucker, a tobacco merchant who had adopted her. She was separated from her father early in life and after the death of her mother it seems and was taken to Graves county to live with him. Later on they moved to Fresno, Cal., where it is claimed he was arrested September 19 last on a serious charge.

The following day, it is also said, his daughter took poison and died September 21. He was kept in jail for six weeks and then liberated, being exonerated by the grand jury. He will now return to Mayfield.

Both men were installed this morning and are on duty.

In regard to Stationman Harvey who was accused of being drunk one day last week, the board suspended him ten days without pay and ordered Chief Woods to instruct his men that drinking in the departments must be abolished and hereafter any fireman caught drunk on or off duty would be discharged permanently from the service.

An application for special police powers for the purpose of carrying arms, was turned down, the commissioners deciding not to use their authority in dealing out special police powers to any and everybody simply that a pistol may be carried.

How to Obtain a Lovely COMPLEXION Clear and Beautiful

It is every woman's duty to be as youthful and good looking as possible, and there is nothing which adds more beauty than a lovely complexion, and there is no remedy which will restore the complexion and give one that youthful appearance like Mrs. A. Ruppert's World Renowned Face Bleach. This grand remedy clears the skin of every discoloration, and impurity, including pimples, freckles, moth patches, brown spots, liver marks, comedones, flesh worms, blackheads, oiliness, sallowness, muddiness and skin diseases. It accomplishes these wonderful effects by drawing the impurities and discolorations to the surface of the skin and then removing these blemishes by gradually scaling off a tight surface of the outer scabskin. It does this in so natural a manner as to be entirely harmless to the most delicate complexion, and, having this action, it cannot fail to produce excellent effects. Most marvelous results are obtained when Face Bleach is used according to my new special Directions in conjunction with my Egyptian Balm, which nourishes and feeds the tissues and glands of the skin, and adds the finishing touch which refines, purifies and preserves the skin in its pristine splendor, giving it the glow of youth.

TWO TRAVELERS.

Find Owner of Ax.

As two men were travelling through a wood one of them took up an ax which he saw lying upon the ground. "Look here," said he to his companion; "I have found an ax." "Don't say I have found it," says the other, "but 'we' have found it." As we are companions we ought to share it between us." The first would not, however, consent. They had not gone far when they heard the owner of the ax calling after them in a great passion. "We are in for it," said he who had the ax. "Nay," answered the other; "say, 'I'm in for it,' not 'we.' You would not let me share the prize, and I am not going to share the danger."

Moral—This fable hints to us the convenience, if not necessity, of making friendships firm and lasting. And to this purpose nothing is so requisite as a strict observance to the rules of honor and generosity; for the very life and soul of friendship subsists upon mutual benevolence, upon conferring and receiving obligations on either hand.

MR. COCHRAN'S FLATS USED CHLOROFORM

Now Completed and Ready for To Drug Mr. Charles Short and Occupancy. Family.

Paducah's First Building of This The Burglar Scratched the Label off Character. the Bottle, Leaving no Clue.

Paducah at last has its first flat or compartment house—that is a compartment house in every sense of the word. It is located at Ninth and Monroe.

A reporter for The Sun was taken through the building today by Mr. W. E. Cochran, the owner, and it is a natural surprise that Paducah people will become "flat dwellers" after they see Mr. Cochran's. It is complete in every detail and as well constructed in point of convenience, neatness and compactness as any compartment house in the larger cities, and the house-keepers of the city should see it.

The building itself is three stories high, and on each floor are two flats. In the flats are a parlor, sitting room, two bed rooms, bath, dining room, kitchen and china closets. In each room is a large, roomy closet, and at the rear of each flat is a large "lumber" room. Each flat is well lighted, and roomy, electric lighted and furnace heated throughout.

Mr. Cochran has moved in with his family, and the other flats will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks.

The erection of this building is but another mark of Paducah progress towards being a metropolitan city.

OFF AT LAST

THE MONIE BAUER FLOATED FROM INGRAM SHOALS.

The Monie Bauer was yesterday gotten off Ingram shoals in the Cumberland river after she had been aground three and a half months. She was "blocked" up and her hull filled with water, consequently no damages resulted. She arrived from the Cumberland yesterday and left this morning for Caseyville for a tow of coal. It is estimated that she lost $1,000 for her owner, Captain Ed Woolfolk, by going aground. She was rendered useless at the very time small boats were needed the most, during the low stages.

NEWS OF THE STATE

Forest Fires Reported in This Section.

Slick Thieves Captured at Madisonville—Sensational Case Comes up at Henderson.

ATTY. KILLED AT EDMONTON.

A SENSATIONAL CASE.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 24.—Federal court is being held in the county court house, the court room in the Federal building being too small for the accommodations of the court.

The most important case on the docket is that against Andrew Reichert, of Henderson, on the charge of sending obscene matter through the mail. It is alleged that he sent obscene letters to a young society woman of Henderson. He was arrested several weeks ago, and is under bond. The name of the young woman to whom the letters were written has never been given out, but it is understood that her people will not allow Reichert to enter a plea of guilty, and that the case will be tried out. Reichert has employed a number of the best attorneys of this bar and Henderson to defend him. He will, as has been stated by one of his attorneys, enter a plea of temporary insanity. The case will be one of the most sensational ever tried here.

GRAPPLED WITH BURGLAR.

Covington, Ky., Nov. 24.—Waking from a sleep Florence Hensfield, thirteen years old, boldly grappled with a burglar who was at work plundering the home of her father.

The child has risen from bed to get a drink when she heard a noise in the room of her parents, which adjoins her room. It appeared to her to be the low moaning of a cat, and thinking that her pet, which had been allowed to sleep in the house, had laid down too near the grate fire, she hastened to her parents' room to run almost into the arms of a negro. The terrified girl, fearing for her parents' safety caught the burglar's hand and screaming to her mother, kicked wildly at the man's shins.

Aroused by the child's cries, Hensfield jumped from the bed and the burglar fled through a kitchen window.

THIEVES CAUGHT.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 24.—The grocery store of R. H. Palmer was robbed here of $10 in cash, and a few hours after the robbery two strangers were arrested by Constable Draddy and a number of old coins, which had been taken from Palmer's cash drawer were found on them. In addition to the coins skeleton keys of all sizes and shapes and a United States mail box key were found. The men refused to tell their names and would not talk. It is believed they came into Madisonville on an Illinois Central freight train.

KILLING IN EDMONTON.

Edmonton, Ky., Nov. 24.—In a shooting affray on the streets here Monday afternoon between George R. Price and R. E. McCandless, Price was instantly killed and McCandless wounded. Price was attorney in a case in which McCandless was a witness. Price said something about McCandless which the latter resented and the shooting followed. Both are prominent and well known.

PIPE LINE FOR OIL.

Burkeville, Ky., Nov. 24.—The oil men of this place are in high hopes of having a pipe line in a short time. Arrangements have been made with the Standard Oil Company to take the oil from this field into their pipe line at Fishing Creek, about seven or eight miles below Burnside. They have also made arrangements with the Burnside Boat Line to carry the oil from the field to that place.

FATAL ENDING OF SPREE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 24.—J. F. Whelan, a turner employed by the Hartman Sliding Blind company, of this city, was found dead in the "red light" district. He had been on a spree for a week. He had a card with him from the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, of Vincennes. His mother resides in New York and he has two sons at Toledo, O.

Perfect Health vs. Dyspepsia

The race is to the swift; the battle to the strong; and the good things of life to the man who dominates men and conditions through the magnetism of perfect health. The unhappy dyspeptic suffers so much from sick headache, loss of appetite, indigestion, constipation, nervousness and wakefulness that he is mentally and physically unable to master life's problems and difficulties in such a manner as to win the confidence and esteem of his associates. Do not thus forfeit your chances of social and commercial advancement. If you are suffering any of the symptoms of Dyspepsia, put your self on the "Road to Good Health" by taking

"I have suffered considerably with indigestion, constipation, also a severe liver trouble with loss of appetite. Could not sleep well at night; in fact, had no energy to work or even walk around. I felt like I was packing a heavy load and was nearly exhausted until I took Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, which helped me from the first dose. By the time I had taken one and one-half bottles I was feeling like a new man, and at this time my appetite is good, sleep well, and feel refreshed on arising in the morning."

I used it, and got two more bottles. It cured me and I haven't felt any rheumatism since. I can recommend Snow Liniment to be the best liniment on earth for rheumatism." THE RESCUE MISSION.
The Sun wants to call attention
again to the Union Rescue Mission, a noble institution in this city, and commend it to the attention of the charitable people of Paducah.

Rev. R. W. Chiles, the pastor, has dedicated his life to this cause and is doing good work in a field which no other church organization touches and
'tis but right that he should have encouragement and assistance in prosecuting it.

The Sun learns that the institution is running behind on money and as winter, the time when the most, and best work is done, is approaching this need should be quickly and promptly attended to.

The Sun has a suggestion to make,
on the eve of Thanksgiving, and it is that every one who is interested in this work make the mission a thanksgiving offering. The Sun will accept donations on behalf of Mr. Chiles or they can be sent to the Rescue mission
on South Third street.

There is no thing encouraging in the presidential outlook, for the Democrats. General Grosvener has not missed an election guess in a dozen or more years and he says the Republicans' margin of 263 electoral votes
next year, with only 239 are needed.
Only 151 are counted by him to the Democrats, while 62, including those of New York are doubtful. The probability is that General Grosvener has made a very conservative estimate, and that the Republican majority next year will be greater than any one has yet predicted.

A great stir has been created in Lensville by the alleged looting of stores by firemen during the progress of the fire last week, and as a result the entire fire department was under suspicion because of the acts of a few of its members. If no one was guilty such charges should never have been made.
If some were guilty they would have been exposed, in justice to the innocent members of the department.

Firemen who would openly loot stores
are not entitled to the courtesy of having their names suppressed.

Senator Morgan, as chairman of the interoceanic canal committee, is as predicted, out of a job. He could hardly expect anything else in view of recent developments. The United States is determined to build a canal, and as Senator Morgan by reason of his opposition to the present policy would be chairman of the committee
be in a position to delay the project, he had to give way to a chairman who would not.

It is to be hoped that the Chicago strike will be settled forthwith, and that some means will soon be devised by which such affairs may in future be avoided. The whole country suffered from the coal strike, and all Chicago is suffering from the street car strike, the citizens, in estimated loss of time, losing one million dollars—
four times the loss of everybody else
combined.

The Democrats seem entirely too anxious to have Senator Hanna become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. Their sincerity is rather doubtful. Senator Hanna is a great man and a popular one, but he says he is not and will not be a candidate and he ought to know better than anyone else.

When some of the people find out how much taxes they have to pay next year, they shouldn't kick, unless they kick themselves, for they did it. It costs something in Paducah to put men into public office simply because they are Democrats—that is it costs everybody except the men put into office.

Colombia didn't lay much stress on
"national honor" when she defeated the canal treaty and thus struck a blow at an enterprise that is destined to benefit the whole world. If she cares to raise the issue now she can at least be assured a decent burial.

The city administration appears to be paying the way for another exorbitant tax rate. We are consoled with the prediction that it will not be over $1.65 next year, however!

Panama knocked the ball over the fence and made a home run and now
Colombia is trying to blame Uncle
Sam, the umpire.

Accident insurance rates will probably be reduced after Thursday. The football season ends then.

CHURCH NEWS

Special Thanksgiving Services
to be Held Thursday.

The service at the First Christian church last night was all that could have been reasonably expected or desired. Mr. Pinkerton spoke from these words as a text: "And she brought forth her first born son; and she wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room in the inn."

The official board met immediately after service. Every member of the church is urged to be present tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The public generally is invited.

At the meeting of the Ministerial association Monday morning at the First Baptist church, Rev. George O. Bachman, of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, was elected secretary to succeed Rev. John W. Irion, who was removed from this city at the recent meeting of the Methodist conference to Dyer, Tenn. A committee to arrange programs for the meetings of the association was appointed as follows: Rev. W. H. Robinson, Rev.
Geo. O. Bachman and Mr. Stuart B.
Hanna.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Broadway Methodist church. Rev. George O. Bachman, of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church will preach a Thanksgiving sermon. Thanksgiving services will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Grace Episcopal church. Members of this congregation who have donations for the poor are requested to send them to the church Wednesday afternoon between 3 and 5.

The Foreign Missionary societies of the Broadway Methodist church will hold prayer services every afternoon
this week at the church on account of the week of Thanksgiving and prayer of this church. This afternoon Mrs.
Charles Q. O. Leigh is conducting the service.

Theatrical Notes.

A good clean play is a relief in these days, when the vulgarity and sensationalism which characterizes so much of the stage productions, is an offense against the high ideals of the profession. Such a play is promised us in
"When Her Soul Speaks," a new play from the pen of Elmer Grandin,
which will be seen at The Kentucky
on Wednesday night. "When Her Soul Speaks" comes to us with the highest of commendations. The Rev.
Ernest M. Stires, of Virginia, now the rector of St. Thomas's church in New York City, after reading the play wrote Mr. Grandin, the author, that he considered the play "remarkably strong, strikingly original, and a valuable dramatic production."

The famous young stars "The Lyman Twin Brothers" who have jumped with wonderful strides to the front rank as comedians, and who we will have the pleasure of seeing here soon
in their new comedy "At the Races,"
which is said to be one of the finest and most complete musical comedy productions of the day, are comedians
in a class by themselves and entertainers who deal out comedy lines and situations in a way seldom seen.

Their new vehicle "At the Races" is the most elaborate production in which they have yet appeared. Saturday matinee and night it comes to The Kentucky.

A fairly large crowd last night enjoyed "In the Palace of the King" played by Miss Helen Grantley and a well balanced company at the Kentucky theatre. Miss Grantley became popular here last year in "Her Lord and Master," and she has lost none of her charm. In the leading role last night she added to her laurels here and the excellent support she received gave satisfaction to those present. The costuming and staging of the play is very good, in fact far above the average of traveling companies. Miss Grantley has a splendid show, and deserves a large audience wherever she goes.

At the conclusion of her present
tour in Ibsen's "Ghosts" Miss Alberta Gallatin, who was here recently, will sail for London to consult with a well known English author in regard to a starring vehicle in which her manager, George H. Brennan, intends to present her next season. Miss Gallatin's tour this season will extend to the Pacific coast, returning to the east through the northwestern states which she has not visited for several years.

Through Pennsylvania, "Miss Bob White" has broken no less than 14 records for big business. Spencer is as popular in the east as Savage in the west and Boston. His waltz movements are as much the fad as are Sou-sa's marches.

Ludwig Englander, the noted composer, has written the music for no less than 52 operas and musical comedies. He is now at work on a new Japanese opera for Sam S. Shubert and Nixon & Zimmerman.

Jessie Bartlett Davis, so long with the "Bostonians" is making the hit of her life as "Captain Delaney" in Francis Wilson's revival of "Erminie."

Hanson's Snjorta and Fantasma
have alternated in public favor for almost a score of years.

Mr. Emil Ankermiller, of the Nat
M. Wills company, is at the Palmer.

Fay Templeton was the wife of the late minstrel Wm. H. West.

"Eight Bells" has been before the public 14 years.

He Explained.
"Brother, what kind of a thing is a reaggot?" "By goodness, Dolly, what an ignoramus! Why, that's how papa made all his money—by being a coal maggot!"—Brooklyn Life.

ture painter, has received an order of Fife, her grandchildren.

BOTH FEEL

WHAT PROPER FOOD DOES FOR BOTH MIND AND BODY.

Physical health, mental health, indeed almost everything good on this earth depend in great measure upon proper food. Without health nothing is worth while and health can be won almost every time by proper feeding
on the scientific food Grape Nuts.

A California trained nurse proved this: "Three years ago I was taken very sick, my work as a trained nurse having worn me out both in body and mind, and medicine failed to relieve me at all. After seeing a number of physicians and specialists and getting no relief I was very much discouraged and felt that I would die of general nervous and physical collapse.

"My condition was so bad I never imagined food would help me but on the advice of a friend I tried Grape Nuts. The first package brought me so much relief that I quit the medicines and used Grape Nuts steadily three times a day. The result was that within six months I had so completely regained my strength and health that I was back nursing again and I feel the improvement in my brain power
just as plainly as I do in physical strength.

"After my own wonderful experience with Grape Nuts I have recommended it to my patients with splendid success and it has worked wonders in the cases of many invalids, whom I have attended professionally."

It is worth considerable to any citi-

cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know that Doan's Ointment is a positive remedy for all itchiness of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

Miss Annie Richardson, living at 320 South Third street, says: "I have been troubled with eczema for a year or more. At times it was very sore and itched badly. I tried a great many ointments and salves of various kinds. I thought some of them was going to make a permanent cure, but in a short time it would break out again as bad as ever. When I saw Doan's Ointment advertised I made up my mind to give it a trial. I obtained a box at DuBois & Co.'s drug store and began its use. It proved itself to do all that is claimed for it. It made a complete cure and up to the present time I have not noticed any signs of its return."

Written at Random.

A well known railroad man was recently speaking of wrecks and accidents on railroads that have cost men their lives, and made the startling statement that many of the accidents have been due to the fact that the laws require the engineer to blow his whistle.

"If the law did not make it compulsory for an engineer to blow his whistle," the engineer explained, "in many cases he would be able to save a life by the use of his own judgment."

"Several years ago I was walking along a Chicago street where four railroad tracks run and on one track a locomotive moving a freight train was coming. An aged lady ran across the rails and did not notice that she was directly in the way of a passenger train which had just come in. The engineer of the passenger saw the woman and blew his whistle. The result was that the woman jumped back and directly in front of the engine, was run over and killed. Now I contend that had the engineer been free to use his own judgment he would probably not have blown the whistle and the lady would not have been startled into such an action as jumping in front of the engine. I have noticed that people when startled suddenly, as one is by a locomotive whistle, will invariably jump back, and if the engineer would only bear this in mind and was not compelled to blow his warning signal, many lives would be saved."

Recently to the Paducah yards I had occasion to observe a good piece of judgment on the part of a switchman. A section hand was in the act of throwing a switch which had "stock," and did not notice a car coming down the line. The car had been "kicked" and the young man's head was right in the way of the corner of the car. The switchman saw that the section man was stooping lower to get the switch open and reasoned that in another second his head would be out of the way and consequently did not warn him. Had he shouted a warning the young man would probably have jumped back, as is invariably the case, and would have been run over and killed."

"I have noticed in the case of cattle on the tracks that one times out of ten when the whistle is blown the animal will continue down the line and get his life snuffed out. I have been on engines and have refrained from blowing my signal and the cattle have often left the track in time to save their life."

on the other side.

In Chicago a young man brought a suit against a railroad for damages for the loss of a leg, alleging that he was riding the hind baggage and the engineer or fireman threw hot water on the coal to wet it down, and the water struck him causing him to jump off to prevent being badly scalded, and in jumping was thrown under the train and a leg cut off.

The railroad company fought the case and many engineers were brought into court to testify. Nearly every one testified that the water used to wetting coal did not come directly from the boiler and while very hot, was not hot enough to scald. To prove this one engineer offered to wash his face in the water from any engine hose and did it without scalding. The case fell flat and the boy received no damages.

HEARD A BURGLAR

BUT THE MAN SUCCEEDED IN MAKING HIS ESCAPE FROM THE HOUSE

The family of Colonel J. J. Dorian, at Fourth and Adams streets, had a bad fright during the night from burglars. They were aroused by the sound of footsteps in a vacant room above, and when the alarm was given the noise ceased.

Colonel Dorian was out of the city, and the second time the noise was heard about an hour later, Captain Henry Bailey and Lieutenant Harlan were telephoned, and both went there at once, but the man had escaped. A door which was found open and a trunk which had been against it was moved. It is supposed the man got in a rear window upstairs by climbing up on the coal house, and went out the door. When he was first heard he doubtless hid in the empty room until he thought the coast was clear and then tried to get out, but not until the family was again alarmed. Nothing was missed.

PAUPER BURIALS

THERE ARE TO BE THREE TODAY IN COUNTY GRAVEYARD.

Undertakers Nance and Spaulding expect to bury three paupers today in the county graveyard. They are: Alfred Rosenkrantz, the aged hermit found dead in his chair near the county graveyard; J. H. Green, the installment man found dead in his room on Kentucky avenue back of the "Folly" livery stable, and the young man Gortley, who died at the city hospital. The latter's wife and mother came over from Reevesville, Ill., and viewed the remains, but could not raise enough money to give the body a decent burial, hence it will have to be buried at the expense of the county.

Aug. 24, 1903, Mr. H. A. Kemble 171 Broadway, New York City, writes: "Last winter I had a severe pain in my back, and consulted a physician, who prescribed for me, for kidney disease and severe inflammation of the bladder, but his medicine did me no good. I tried several liquid kidney remedies, but the alcohol in them seemed to aggravate my trouble. I was induced to buy a bottle of Kidney-Wort Tablets, and the change was remarkable. Two bottles relieved me so that after taking four in all I was cured. Kidney-Wort Tablets is a wonderful remedy for the kidneys."

Two persons in three suffer from impaired or diseased kidneys. They live unhappily, enjoy but little, and die before their time. A certain lawyer of Paducah, so it goes, is not of that robust physique which permits of daily, weekly, or possibly even monthly ablutions. In truth, it is even said that he never had a bath in his life to the bath tub. Either he was not reared to an appreciation of the advantages of the plooce or shower, or else his health is not vigorous enough to stand it.

At any rate, it was not long ago that a relative began to upbraid him for his neglect. "Uoole," he began, "what you need is a little physical exercise and a bath every morning. If you would try bathing I am sure it would help you."

"I don't agree with you," protested the other. "It may be true in some cases, where people are raised to it, but I wasn't taught it, and I'm too old to learn now."

"But," insisted the other, "if you would try taking a bath every morning you would feel like a new man when you got out."

"Yes, yes, son," concluded the attorney, "but you see I'd never get out."

Speaking of lawyers recalls a story of a certain judge not a thousand miles away who was one day engaged in looking up authorities in a big law-soit. His partner was a patient, thoughtful man, while the judge himself is sometimes rather rough. His partner was the personification of docility as they began to search together for statutes and decisions.

"Now," the judge would say, "here is a decision which says," — and he would quote what it said.

"Yes," assented the other, "but here is another one which says," — and he would quote something exactly opposite to the one the judge had discovered.

This continued for some time, and finally the judge arose in his wrath and shouted:

"D—d it, sir, I wait this stopped. Every decision I find, here you pop up with one exactly opposite."

He couldn't stand to hear the law

The SKY PILOT

By RALPH CONNOR

Author of "The Man From Glengarry" "Glengarry School Days" and "Black Rock"

Copyright, 1939, by FLEMING R. REVELL COMPANY

"She is a remarkable child," he said one day: "wild and shy as a coyote, but fearless, quite, and with a heart full of passions. Merely—the Old Timer, you know—has kept her up there among the hills. She sees no one but herself and Ponka's Blackfoot relations, who treat her like a goddess and help to spoil her utterly. She knows their lingo and their ways—goes off with them for a week at a time."

"What! With the Blackfeet?" "Ponka and Joe, of course, go along, but even without them she is as safe as if surrounded by the Goldstream guards. But she has given them up for some time now."

"And at home?" I asked. "Has she any education? Can she read or write?"

"Not she. She can make her own dresses, neckties and leggings. She can cook and wash—that is, when she feels in the mood. And she knows all about the birds and beasts and flowers and that sort of thing, but—education? Why, she is hardly civilized."

"What a shame!" I said. "How old is she?"

"Oh, a mere child—fourteen or fifteen, I imagine, but a woman in many things."

"And what does her father say to all this? Can he control her?"

"Control?" said the Duke in utter astonishment. "Why, bless your soul, nothing in heaven or earth could control her. Will till you see her stand with her proud little head thrown back, giving orders to Joe, and you will never again connect the idea of control with Gwen. She might be a princess for the pride of her. I've seen some, too, in my day, but none to touch her for sheer, imperial pride, little Lucifer that she is."

"And how does her father stand her nonsense?" I asked, for I confess I was not much taken with the picture the Duke had drawn.

"Her father simply follows behind her and adores, as do all things that come near her, down or up, perhaps, to her two dogs, Wolf and Loo, for either of which she would readily die if need be. Still," he added after a pause, "it is a shame, as you say. She ought to know something of the refinements of civilization, to which, after all, she belongs, and from which none of us can hope to escape." The Duke was silent for a few moments and then added with some hesitation, "Then, too, she is quite a pagan—never saw a prayer book, you know."

And so it came about, chiefly through the Duke's influence, I imagine, that I was engaged by the Old Timer to go up to his ranch every week and teach his daughter something of the elements of a lady's education.

My introduction was ominous of the many things I was to suffer of that same young maiden before I had finished my course with her. The Old Timer had given careful directions as to the trail that would lead me to the canyon where he was to meet me. Up the Swan went the trail, winding ever downward into deeper and narrower coulees and up to higher open sunlit slopes, till suddenly it settled into a valley which began with great width and narrowed to a canyon whose rocky sides were dressed out with shrubs and trailing vines and wet with trickling rivulets from the numerous springs that oozed and gushed from the black, glistening rocks. This canyon was an eerie place of which ghastly tales were told from the old Blackfoot times. And to this day no Blackfoot will dare to pass through this black walled, oozy, glistening canyon after the moon has passed the western lip. But in the warm light of broad day the canyon was a good enough place, cool and sweet, and I lingered through, waiting for the Old Timer, who failed to appear till the shadows began to darken its western black sides.

Out of the mouth of the canyon the trail climbed to a wide stretch of prairie that swept up over soft hills to the left and down to the bright gleaming waters of the Devil's lake on the right. In the sunlight the lake lay like a radiant with many colors, the far black lip of the canyon of the growing, then, in the middle, deep, blue and purple, and, nearer, many shades of emerald that ran quite to the white sandy beach. Right in front stood the ranch buildings, upon a slight rising ground and surrounded by a sturdy palisade of upright pointed poles. This was the castle of the princess. I rode up to the open gate, then turned and stood to look down upon the marvelous lake shining and shimmering with its many radiant colors. Suddenly there was a awful roar, my pony shot round upon his hind legs after his beastly canyone manner, deposited me sitting upon the ground and fled down the trail, pursued by two huge dogs that brushed past me as I fell. I was aroused from my amazement by a peal of laughter, shrill, but full of music. Turning, I saw my pupil, as I guessed, standing at the head of a most beautiful pinto (spotted) pony with a heavy cattle quilt in her hand. I scrambled to my feet and said, somewhat angrily, I fear:

"What are you laughing at? Why don't you call back your dogs? They will chase my pony beyond all reach."

"She lifted her little head, shook back her masses of brown hair, looked at me as if I were quite beneath contempt and said, 'No, they will kill him.'"

"Then," said I, for I was very angry, "I will kill them," pulling at the revolver in my belt.

"Then," she said, and for the first time I noticed her eyes blue black, with gray rims, "I will kill you," and she whipped out an ugly looking revolver. From her face I had no doubt that she would not hesitate to do as she had said. I changed my tactics, for I was anxious about my pony, and said, with my best smile:

"Can't you call them back? Won't they obey you?"

Her face changed in a moment. "Is it your pony? Do you love him very much?"

"Dear!" I said, persuading myself of a sudden affection for the cranky little brute.

She sprang upon her pinto and set off down the trail. The pony was now coursing up and down the slopes, doubling like a hare, instinctively avoiding the canyon, where he would be cornered. He was mad with terror at the huge brute that was silently but with awful and sure swiftness running him down.

The girl on the pinto whistled shrilly and called to her dog: "Down, Wolf! Back, Loo!" But, running low, with long, stretched bodies, they heeded not, but sped on, ever gaining upon the pony that now circled toward the pinto. As they drew near in their circling, the girl urged her pinto to meet them, loosening her lariat as she went. As the pony heaved the pinto he slackened his speed; immediately the nearer dog gathered herself in two short jumps and sprang for the pony's throat. But, even as she sprang, the lariat whirled round the girl's head and fell swift and sure about the dog's neck, and next moment she lay choking upon the prairie. Her mate paused, looked back and gave up the chase. But dire vengeance overtook them, for, like one possessed, the girl fell upon them with her quirt and bent them one after the other till, in pity for the brutes, I interposed.

"They shall do as I say or I shall kill them! I shall kill them!" she cried, raging and stamping.

"Better shoot them," I suggested, pulling out my pistol.

Immediately she flung herself upon the one that moaned and whined at her feet, crying:

"If you dare! If you dare!" Then she burst into passionate sobbing. "You bad Loo! You bad, dear old Loo! But you were bad—you know you were bad!" And so she went on, with her arms about Loo's neck till Loo, whining and quivering with love and delight, threatened to go quite mad, and Wolf, standing unobtrusively near, broke into short howls of impatience for his turn of cursing. They made a strange group, those three wild things, equally fierce, and passionate in hate and in love.

Suddenly the girl remembered me, and standing up she said, half ashamed:

"They always obey me. They are mine, but they kill any strange thing that comes in through the gate. They are allowed to."

"It is a pleasant whim."

"What?"

"I mean, isn't that dangerous to strangers?"

"Oh, no one ever comes alone except the Duke. And they keep off the wolves."

"The Duke comes, does he?"

"Yes," and her eyes lit up. "He is my friend. He calls me his 'princess,' and he teaches me to talk and tells me stories—oh, such wonderful stories!"

I looked in wonder at her face, so gentle, so girlish, and tried to think back to the picture of the girl who a few moments before had so coolly threatened to shoot me and had so furiously beaten her dogs.
